This week we welcomed some of our Year One children back to school. We are really proud of how well they have coped with the changes in the school environment. We would like to thank parents for keeping to our new one way system on the school site, while maintaining social distancing at the beginning and the end of the school day. Please remember that the school office remains closed. However, if you have a query we are more than happy to help you via telephone or email.

Important Message from the RNLI Water Safety Team

This summer, RNLI Lifeguards can't be on every beach, meaning a heightened water safety risk to beach goers. They have asked us to help share some important messages with our children and their families. It is anticipated that once restrictions further ease and the summer weather is here, people will head to the beaches and coastline to enjoy the sun, sea and time with friends and family. In a normal year, the RNLI helps thousands of people who end up getting into difficulty in, or close to, the water when doing these types of activities. During a normal summer term, the RNLI's local team of trained volunteers and lifeguards visit Heamoor and speak to the children but this year they have not been able to engage with school communities as they normally would. The RNLI has asked us to share some resources with you. They would like you to look at their Beach Safety Campaign with your children and suggest their Water Safety from Home resources and maybe taking part in their Water Safety Wednesday series which is perfect for primary school-aged children. We will be sending some of their educational resources home as part of home-school learning and it is really important that your child engages with these. Beach lifeguards cannot be everywhere this summer and it is vital every one of us takes responsibility for our own, and our family's, safety.

You will find the resources here:

This is an unusual time and we are aware that some people and families will be finding it difficult. We have included some helpline numbers in case anyone finds them useful:
