Remembrance Day

Thank you once again for your support of the Royal British Legion's Poppy Appeal—we almost sold out of all of the poppies and other items so we are looking forward to being told how much we raised for this worthy charity.

On remembrance day it self, the school was treated to an assembly led by Indigo class as part of their WWI project. The assembly included a 'solo' singing performance by (a very brave) Cerys, a poem written by George, a class poem celebrating the importance of remembrance, a prayer written by Seb, Archie, Zach & George and a video made by George and his family about life in the trenches. Mr Caldwell also played a lament on his bagpipes following our 2 minutes silence and Violet class performed a poem and shared their poppy wreath. The whole school also wrote poems on individual paper poppies which have been displayed at Heamoor British Legion where our lovely choir also performed.
