

Home Learning Grid - 18.01.21

Read It	Write It	Paint It	Do It	Research it
Read about different types of clouds online. What are they called and why do different types of clouds appear in the sky?	Use the following link to watch the 'Clouds' video: https://www.heamoorschool.co.uk/website/writing/535377 Complete a writing task when you've watched and listened.	Create a piece of art inspired by the music and ideas in the 'Clouds' video. It could be based on the things you imagine or from nature in real life.	Watch the following video from the Met Office and make your own cloud in a bottle. *IMPORTANT - You must have an adult to help you. https://www.youtube.com/watch/G70y90BVes4	Find out about the weather this week. What weather is being forecast and why? Use the internet/TV forecasts/newspapers.
Read the chapters from the 'Serial Mash' book and complete the multiple choice questions. (See Purple Mash 'To Do')	Complete the 'Serial Mash' writing activities. (See Purple Mash 'To Do')	Who is Joe Greenaway? Create some art work in the style of this street artist.	Go to the Active Maths & English page on the website and do the activity 'If This Is The Answer'. https://www.heamoorschool.co.uk/website/active_maths__english/535402	Find out about the artist, Joe Greenaway. Where is he from? What kind of art does he create?
Complete the 'Great Expectations' reading comprehension activity on the website. https://www.heamoorschool.co.uk/website/reading_comprehension/530782	Write an article for 'The Cornishman' or 'Cornwall Online' explaining the importance of wearing face masks.	Create designs for face masks. Think about colour / pattern / images.	Make a face mask from one of your designs using material you have at home.	Find out about the importance of face masks and the different types that are available. Are there face masks that are better than others? Why? Why not?