An Egg-cellent Competition

There weren't many thing that Billy Edwards was good at. He couldn't hold a tune, he couldn't spell and he couldn't get 10/10 in his maths tests, no matter how hard he tried. But there was one thing that Billy was better at than anyone else in the school: the annual sport's day egg and spoon race.

Billy had been preparing for this day for months. He'd driven his dad mad by running up and down stairs with a hard-boiled egg balanced on the smallest teaspoon he could find. Sometimes, if he was feeling particularly brave, he wouldn't boil the egg first... that was a real test of skill. At last, his moment of glory had arrives and he stood at the starting line, determined to win first prize.

Find and copy a word which tells you that the egg and spoon race only happened once a year.

Name two things that Billy was not very good at.

Why would not boiling the eggs first be a 'real test'?

'At last, his moment of glory had arrived...' What does this sentence tell you about what Billy was expecting to happen?
