

Indigo Class: Summer Term

Is It 'All Greek' To You?

The background of the slide is a textured orange color with a dark red border. It features several black silhouettes of ancient Greek athletes in various poses, including running, jumping, and wrestling. In the center background, there is a silhouette of a classical Greek temple with four columns.

Throughout this term, Indigo Class will explore the Ancient Greek civilisation. They will discover who the Ancient Greeks were and how their culture has affected future civilisations. Through the creative arts, the children will learn about the way in which the Ancient Greeks told stories and how they themselves used the arts to be creative. The children will uncover the truth about the lives of ordinary Greek citizens and will explore how things such as the Olympic Games, theatres, universities and politics were all introduced by people who lived within this fascinating civilisation.
