

CREATE A PORTRAIT

The theme for this week's Great Big Art Exhibition is 'portraits'.

Start by looking at some different examples of portraits.

With an adult at home, you might look on Google to see some examples of how different artists have created portraits over the years.

These websites are also useful as a starting point:

BBC Class Clips – How to draw a portrait video

Tate Kids – examples of how portraits could 'tell a story' about you and your family

Ideas for creating portraits that aren't just painted or drawn – loads of brilliantly different ideas on here that you may want to try!

Be as creative as you can, use any material/medium you have to hand, or prefer to use.

Your portrait may just be you, with a background of your favourite place, or showing you doing something you love doing (you can include props!)

Or you may do a portrait of your family/people who are important to you (think about who was in your 'crew on deck' on your resilience boat.

Really looking forward to seeing what you create!
