

Is the banquet really fit for a king?

This term Orange Class will be exploring Tudor times, finding out about the way of life and Henry VIII. For our project launch, we will be discovering real Tudor artefacts, where the children will get to observe and question what they are. Our project will consist of three mini projects, leading onto our final end project. The first mini project will focus on Henry VIII as a famous historical character. We will be finding out about how he lived and his wives, exploring history. and asking ourselves, what makes Henry special?

For mini project two, we will explore life in Tudor times. We will look at the differences between the rich and the poor, clothing and lifestyle, asking ourselves: How would we live in Tudor times?

For mini project three we will be looking at Tudor houses, creating our very own street. We will be designing and making our own 3D houses and exploring Tudor gardens. We will be working out whether we would be able to live in a house like this?

Our end project will see the children considering everything they have found out about Tudors, planning and making their own Tudor banquet and learning a Tudor dance.

Is the banquet really fit for a king?